GOLDEN SMILE IN EVIDENCE

New York, February 2.—The "Golden Smile" was in evidence to-day as Jack Johnson, the heavyweight pugilistic champion, pleaded not guilty to the assault indictment against him. Johnson was summoned to answer the charge of Norman Pinder, that Johnson had assaulted him in an uptown hotel.

Counsel for Pinder asked that the bail be raised from $10,000 to $100,000. Pinder was badly injured, the lawyer claimed. Johnson's attorney said that information he had from a physician did not sustain this claim. There was no evidence to show that Johnson had hit Pinder, he declared. Why, if this man had ever struck Pinder with his fist he would have broken his jaw, he exclaimed the lawyer.

The court fixed Johnson's bail at $20,000.

Johnson, as he left the court room, was served with papers in a civil suit by Pinder for $20,000. He threw the papers on the floor, but his counsel picked them up and announced that he accepted service for the pugilist.

36,000,000 ANCIENT EGGS IN ONE COLD STORAGE HOUSE

New York, February 2.—There are 36,000,000 eggs—enough to provide eight eggs a piece for every man, woman and child in New York City and all its boroughs—in one cold storage warehouse in Jersey City, according to the information received here from the Hudson county (New Jersey) grand jury to-day in its investigation of the big packing and other concerns which maintain extensive warehouses on the other side of the Hudson river. The eggs have been there since last March. It was learned, together with 100,000 pounds of poultry stored since last April.

Prosecutor P. P. Garven, of Hudson county, has subpoenaed the managers of the Union Terminal Cold Storage Company, in whose warehouse the eggs and poultry are said to be stored, and officers of other large refrigerating companies to appear before the grand jury Friday, when the prosecutor hopes to trace other large consignments of ancient meat and produce.

The investigation is directed against the cold storage concerns as a basis for determining the cause of the high cost of meats and other household necessities. Prosecutor Garven said to-day that if he can find evidence sufficient to warrant an indictment under the common law for conspiracy to raise prices he will advise the grand jury to indict those who are responsible for holding meat, eggs and other food stuffs in storage.

early in December all but three of the members were reported to be favorable to the secretary's ideas.

The committee was considerably wrought up over the report that the secretary of the Navy was intending to discipline Rear-Admiral Capps, chief constructor of the navy, and Chief-Admiral Rogers, postmaster-general, for giving their views before the committee unfavorable to his plan.

It is known that both Admiral Capps and Admiral Rogers were reluctant to testify before the committee, and when summoned, requested the committee to relieve them of the necessity of giving their views. The committee, however, desired their testimony, and both officers appeared and gave their statements at length.

Committee Indignant.

Members of the committee did not conceal their indignation to-day that any one should attempt to discipline one of their witnesses. The committee asserts its right to call any naval officer before it and compel him to answer any questions propounded regarding the service. It resents any attempt to restrict of this right, and it was reported to-day that the committee intended reporting the matter to the House itself if either Admiral Capps or Rogers refused to state their views before the committee.

Secretary Meyer did not discuss reorganization before the committee to-day. The "Dreadnaught" committee, headed by Chairman Foss and two or three other members of the committee questioned the secretary privately.

It was asked by them that the secretary plan and adopt the Newberry plan, which was asserted to be the "plan of the committee." The latter plan is the one urged by former Secretary Newberry, and differs materially from the present Meyer plan of reorganization.

This move was a complete surprise to the secretary. It is said, and he declined to agree to it.

The "Dreadnaught" committee of battle-ship necessities the enlargement of all the dry docks of the United States Navy, which will cost $1,000,000 or $2,000,000, according to the secretary.

Secretary Meyer told the committee that a new dry dock would be built at Norfolk at a cost of $2,000,000; that the New York dry dock would have to be enlarged at a cost of $1,000,000; that the new one at Puget Sound would be built at a cost of $1,500,000, and that the dock at Puget Sound would be enlarged at an additional cost of $250,000.
